ABOUT

Khandie has always had the No BS approach to photography. Time is valuable and not just in a monetary sense. A person who gets to the point with her 'as subtle as a sledge hammer' approach has won her fans across the globe. As an ambassador for brands like Lensbaby and Analogue Wonderland she has been able to grow from a photographer in a highly saturated town to make an indelible mark on the world of photography and visual storytelling the globe over. Whether she is covering music festivals on the coast of Norway surrounded by Vikings or running night-time photo walks in London, Khandie has proven she is forging her own path in photography with tenacity that is infectious to watch.

WHAT THEY SAY

I have been on several 'Street' camera workshops with Khandie and my photography has come on leaps and bounds from them. She has a brilliant way with people, encouraging, challenging through experimentation to get that better shot!

*Not only is Khandie a fantastic tutor but her character is a pure force of nature and has the ability to attract really interesting and generous fellow photographers to the workshops. They're unmissable. - W. Tudor

*We love having Khandie judge our camera club competitions. She brings a superb critical eye from her wealth of experience and with her larger than life personality, her critique is delivered with great humour, fairness and bundles of encouragement. Can't wait to have her back! - Chair Northampton Camera Club

*As an after-dinner speaker, Khandie is sensational. Her ability to engage with everyone is second to none. She uses humour, personality and passion to really connect. Highly recommend her. - RAF Cadet Force

"I must say, it was nothing short of extraordinary. Khandie's passion for her craft was palpable from the moment she stepped onto the stage, and her ability to connect with the audience was truly remarkable. - UoN Photographic Society (Photography Seminar)

Her enthusiasm was infectious, and her genuine desire to inspire others shone through in every word she spoke. - WI Dalston (Photography Seminar)

If you ever have the opportunity to hear Khandie speak, I wholeheartedly recommend it. Her ability to engage and connect with her audience is truly unparalleled, and I have no doubt that her insights will continue to inspire aspiring photographers for years to come - R Abbott (Oslo Photo Walk)
